Getting to Hakuba Mominoki Hotel

Airport Information

The best airport to fly arrive at is Narita Airport in Tokyo. From there, you have two main options to get to the hotel depending on your time constraints, budget and method of transportation. You can purchase a Japan Rail Pass, a flexible train ticket that can be used many times, upon arriving at the Narita Airport. The ticket is 20,000 yen and is valid for one month. The overnight luggage transfer to the hotel can also be arranged at the airport. The cost per bag is around 1,700 yen.

Getting into Tokyo

Whatever method of transport you decide to take to Hakuba, you will initially need to take a train or bus from Narita Airport into Tokyo city, to arrive at one of the two the main transit points: Tokyo Station or Shinjuku Station. From the airport to Tokyo, the bus and the train both cost 3000 yen per person (1500 yen for children) into Tokyo, and take between 1 and 1.5 hours. There is an information desk with English speaking staff who can help you with buying train or bus tickets. Trains are called "Narita Express". Buses are called "Friendly Airport Limousine". Trains and buses leave the airport bound for Tokyo and Shinjuku every 20 minutes or so. There is no need to make reservations in advance.

From Tokyo city to Hakuba

From Tokyo city, you have two main options:

- Option 1) By bus: Total 6-7 hours, 7,700 yen per person. Buses are cheaper but take longer.
- Option 2) By bullet train: 4 hours, 12,400 yen per person. Trains are more expensive but faster.

Option 1 - Details for traveling by bus:

- a) Catch a bus from Narita Airport to Shinjuku (as above): 1.5 hours, 3,000 yen.
 - b) You can then catch a bus from Shinjuku direct to Hakuba. This takes about 4.5 hours (sometimes slightly longer) and costs 4,700 per person.
- Bus Total: 6 – 7 hours, 7,700 yen per person (6,200 for children).

Option 2: Details for traveling by bullet train:

- a) Train from Narita Airport to Tokyo station (as above): 1.5 hours, 3,000 yen.
 - b) Then catch a Shinkansen (Bullet train) to Nagano station, Asama Shinkansen line: 1.5 hours, 8,000 yen per person.
 - c) Then catch a bus from Nagano station to Hakuba: 1 hour, 1,400 yen (700 for children). These depart every couple of hours.
- Train Total: 4 hours, 12,400 yen (10,200 yen for children).

Hotel Pickup

We can arrange for you to be picked up from Hakuba station. Please let us know in advance. You can also take a taxi from Hakuba station to the hotel (5 minutes, approximately 1,500 yen). Please rest assured there are English speaking staff at most train stations and, if all else fails, just saying "Hakuba station" will give the staff enough information to point you in the right direction or issue you with tickets.

Day Tours: Matsumoto Castle and Daio Wasabi Farm

Day Tours

With its abundance of nature, history and culture, Nagano Prefecture is a must see destination. Take in the highlights of this fascinating area with a selection of tours departing from Hakuba. The following day tours run throughout the winter season and are available to groups and individual customers.

Matsumoto Castle & Daio Wasabi Farm Tour 松本城

In Japan there are only four castles that have been designated as "National Treasures" and Matsumoto Castle is one of these. The five-storied donjon is one of the oldest castle structures existent in Japan. Construction of the main donjon began in 1592 when warlords around the country struggled for dominance. Matsumoto Castle is one of the few great castles of the feudal era to survive in its original form. On the way to Matsumoto we stop at the Daio Wasabi Farm, the largest of its kind in Japan and the perfect place to taste many of the various different Wasabi products, one of which is Wasabi ice cream! After the guided tour of the Matsumoto Castle a delicious Japanese set menu lunch has been arranged and then customers are at their own leisure to explore the many historical sites around the city. Numerous stores and galleries sell fine traditional crafts and local foods of the Shinshu area.
